CONVICTING MURDERER MAXWELL.

to undertake a surgical operation which had resulted facility.

There was some trouble in getting a jury owing to the feeling against Maxwell, who was believed to have perpetrated a most arrocious crime. It was even alleged that he had begun to obtain the murder and robbery from the moment he met Prelier on the boat, and that all his cultivation of the young salesman's triend-hip and confidence had been with that and in view.

THE CASE HAS BEEN UNIQUE.

tances during the trial and since.

The case has been almost unparalleled, not e-k. Principal Brooks made three journeys from

MAXWELL IN JAIL.

tors were not allowed to come directly into Maxwell's presence. His mother and sister, while talking to him, were separated from while talking to him, were separated from him by an iron a reen.

The Brooks family, while appreciating to the full all favors and kindness shown to them, firmly believe in the innocence of "our Hugh," as they called him, and that he was the victim of grossest injustice. They to the was the victim of grossest injustice. They even infimate their belief that Preller "was not so o d as he might have been," and that he "over-persuaded" Hugh to attempt the operation which resulted fatally. In her letter to the wife of Gov. Morehouse Mrs. Brooks wrote:

Everything was done that could be done against him in the trial at St. Louis. This was followed out by all the jud es at Jefferson City except nobe Judge Sherwood, a gentleman for whom we tave the great st honor and respect. My husband speaks as highly of the Governor that I ventured to write and ask you to plead for us and get my boy. Iree perion, which he certainly deserves, for everybody here says his punishment has already far exceeded his aftense. Now, dear lady, let a mother's love get you to do all you can to save her calls. We non-of us know how soon sorrow and trouble may ceme to any one of us, and terfore ie ve those wicke i men in God's han is to deal with ECHOED BY A BROTHER.

So strongly has the feeling of injustice impre sed George Brooks, brother of Hugh, that he declares he will never set foot in the land where such a thing is possible. Judge Sherwood, referred to in Mrs. Brooks's let er, is a member of the Supreme Bench is Missouri, who wrote two dissenting opinions in the case, and so far departed from his usual course as to appeal personally o the Governor.

Mrs. Brooks and her daughter have been the guests in St. Louis of Mr. Fauntleroy, one of Hugh's counsel. They have been most kindly and generous y cared for, and but for the sad and fruitless, errand which of the pleasant side of their visit, so deeply is it overshad wed be the terrible event of to-day, which they could not aver with all their love and their almost heroic devotion.

PLANNING PRISON LIFE.

Morehouse might interfere so as to com

Morehouse might interfere so ac as to commute his sentence to imprisonment for life he spoke of the kind of work he would like to do in the penitentiary. The tailor shop, he thought, would be the best place for him. He hoped he would not be pased in the saddle-tree factory, as the work there was very heavy, he understood, the heaviest in the prison. The penitentiary authorities ought to cause a man by his strength and work here.

to gauge a man by his strength and work him acc rdingly. Small men possessed of little strength should be put in the tailor shop, and big, streng men ought to be made to work in the saddle-tree actory and do all the heavier work, as they were better able to While Maxwell still had a hope that Gov.

DRIFT CAUGHT BERE AND THERE BY "EVENING WORLD" REPORTERS.

Three Thousand Tons of Murble in a Meet ing-House Steenle Paralyzed Him. An archaic hayseed from the interior of the State was pottering down Fifth avenue yesterday. An alpaca frock-coat of a light-green black fluttered airily about his spare form. and an aged pair of breeches clung baggily to his long legs and cleared his ankles more victoriously.

He was opposite the Cathedral, and, tilting his battered straw hat back, he looked earnestly at the spires that rise, as fair as twin lilies, up into the clear blue. A workman liles, up into the clear blue, A workman was just going up on the "lift" with a load of m rble. The countryman approached the contractor and said:

"Waal, I bet yer wouldn't get this chicken to go up on that are little slidin' platform, with nothin' to each on by."

"Those who don't want to go up that way can go up by the ladders," said the contractor.

can go up by the ladders," said the contractor.

The sea-green eye of the rustic travelled up the series of short ladders aga nst the side of the spire. Then he spoke again.

"Waa! I guess you wouldn't get this ole critter a-climbin' up them, neether," he said, with a complaient grin. "Hev yer most got all the stun yer want to put on top?"

"Ob, no. There's a good deal to come."

"Jest about how much weight of stun have yer out inter thet steeple?" he asked.

"Well, there have been about two hundred carioads, averaging fifteen tons to a car. That makes ab ut three thousand ons of white marble, without counting the brick or iron work."

or iron work."
"My Goll! and you've got to go up a dozen more feet, I reck'n, 'fore yer strike the top, ain't yer!"
It'll be nearer sixty-five feet," said the The rural relic opened eyes and mouth at And when'll you have her done?" he asked. "Oh, in two or three months," said the On, in two of three monts, said the question-answerer, moving away calmly, Hiram took his way down the street, muttering to himself: "I guess they'd wait a powerful while up around home 'fore they but 3,000 ton of white marble in a meetin'-house steeple. It's a wasteful extravagance."

It Was Two Sturdy Tramps to One Old Man but He Came Out All Right.

An elderly, gray-baired man of medium height, with a good-natured face adorned by a small white mustache and goatee, had quite an adventure in Brooklyn a few nights ago. He i- a prominent citizen and took an im-He is a prominent citizen and took an important part in compiling he census of 1880. He is between six y and six y-five years old and is still very active and strong.

On this particular night he had remained in New York until after the hour it is supposed good people retire, and he didn't get acres the bridge until nearly 3 o'clock.

He walked to the corner of Sands and Fulcies at the strong stron ton streets, intending to wait for a car to take him to his home on Bed ord avenue. Suddenly he was disturbed by a seedy-looking individual, who asked money for some hing to eat.

"I'm sorry, my man," said be, "It is unfortunate for you that you approach me at night. If it was daylight I would take you into a restaurant and give you something to into a restaurant and give you something to eat, but I never take my pocketbook out at night in the presence of strangers."

"You old - kinflint," said the tramp, with an oath, "you ain't no gentleman," and he attempted to strike out. Before he knew what was coming he had received a blow from the other's fist that landed him sprawling line the criter.

from the other's as that hands and into the gutter.

Picking himself up, the tramp called one of his pals, who began to take a hand in the fight, but was stopped by his intended victimal that was stopped by his intended victimal to the wald. who said:
I may be an old man, but as sure as I

tim, who said:

"I may be an old man, but as sure as I live, if either one or both o you attak me. I'll kill one of you. I may not be able to 'do' both of you, but some one will suffer if you come near me. You are highwaymen, and the law is on my side."

The tramps were about to make another charge when a friend of the old gentleman approached unexpectedly, and, seeing what was up, struck tramp No. 2 under the ear, sending him in the gutter. The other fellow ran away. The two friends then went home in a hack. During the melée no policeman was in sight.

A Reminiscence of the old Days When Jakey

On the Coleman House register to-day is written in a bold hand "Jac Snell, Fonda,

That signature brings to the mind of an Evening World reporter, a round and rosy middle-aged man, the Sheriff of Montgomery distributed to several thousands of his lawyer friends all over the State.

The circular bore on the upper left-hand corner the portrait of a round, jolly-faceu man, and the letterpress announced that Sheriff Snell was prepared to devote his whole attention to duty and that he would give the best of his judgment to all work intrusted to him. The portrait was certainly one to inspire confidence.

A certain waggish voung lawyer of this city was one of the recip ents of this thor-city was one of the recip ents of this thoroughly business circular, and, cutting of the portrait he posted it on the back of a postal card with this written effusion:

Is this the new Sheriff, can any one tell?
Is this the new Sheriff, our own Jakey Snell?
If this is the Sheriff, and is not a sell.
Way, then, Mr. Sheriff, you're doing darn well!

St. Patrick's Sons Paraded and Little Moan Knew the Reason Why. Mona had always lived in a country town, and, in her mind, parades and processions are always associated with funerals. Last St. Patrick's Day, as she stood at the window a section of the big parade passed by, "Who are those men, mamma?" she asked. "They are the Sons of St. Patrick," was After a few minutes' reflection the fouryear-old asked:

"Is the old man dead?"

Why He Ran.

Quevedo-I saw a messenger boy running yester. Curtis—Policeman after him?
Quevedo—No. Taking a telegram to a ball-player.

HOW I CAUGHT A ROBBER.

TO BAT AT THE ANTIPODER.

Johnny Ward Gathers Crack Players for Capt. John Montgomery Ward, of the All America team, which will play baseball with the Chicago nine throughout Australia next winter, has already signed with a number of his players and is negotiating with others. Among those who will positively go to the antipodes with Ward are Hanlon, of the Detroits; Fred Carroll, of the Pittsburgs, and Tiernan, of the Giants. Big Roger Connor is expected to accompany the team, and the American Association is expected to furnish either or both Caruthers and Bushong, of the either or both Caruthers and Bushong, of the Brooklyn team, for the trip.

As the Yankee boys will have to play cricket with the colonists, Captain Ward has purchased an outfit, and he and Tiernan daily defend the wicket against Jim O'Rourke's bowling. Jim is a v-teran crickter, and was one of the Boston-Athletic baseball combination which went to England, where he made more runs than any single one of his English opponents.

Ward says he is confident his baseball boys can field all around the Australians, and what they have to learn more pa ticularly is the peculiar batting and blocking of balls.

The Australian cricketers, who are now in Eugland, are practising baseball, with the idea of knocking out the American visitors.

POLITICIANS, TAKE NOTICE. Labor Is Going to Call a State Convention and Take Part in the Campaign.

An important political movement is about to be inaugurated by the Central Labor Union which may give the old party managers much concern about the manner in which the La or vote will shape itself in November. The Committee of Ten of the Central Labor nion, composed of leading representatives of organized labor, met last night at 145 Eighth street and resolved to recommend to the central boty next Sunday that a State convention, composed of representatives of all labor organ zations, be called at an early day. The committee recommend that the basis of representation shall be two dele-gates from each trade or labor organization and her from each Cen ral Labor Union and District Assemblies of Knights of Labor. No person who is an active member of either of the old political parties, or who has not been a member of a labor organization for a year, is to be eligible as a delegate to the convention.

It is proposed to throw the labor vote en the side of the party which will favor the repeal of the obnoxious Conspiracy law: to aid in the election of all candidates who are friendly to organized labor, and in districts where there are none to nom nate districtive labor men or aid in the defeat of those opposed to labor measures.

Building Inspector Samuel H. Merritt was fined two days' pay and reprimanded for neglect of duty on the new building at Convent avenue and One Hundred and Forty-fifth street.

Fireman E. J. Murphy, of Hook and Lad-der 15, was fined ten days' pay for being absent without leave for nineteen hours. Fireman Edward J. Lacey, of Engine Com-pany 5, was fined ten days pay for being ab-sent without leave on two occasions, once for a space of nine hours and once for fourteen hours.

Fireman J. J. Britts, of Engine 16, lost two days' pay by being absent for one hour.

Fireman William Farrell, of Engine 4, was ordered to pay a judgment of $350, with costs, amounting in all to $800.

GOING THEM ONE BETTER.

The Young Democrats of the Dry-Goods District Were Not to Be Outdone,

The large body of Democrats employed in the dry-goods district will do effective work for the national ticket. The Republican dudes of the district have hoisted the star-spangled banner with the names of Harrison and Morton plastered over it. The flag-banner is strung across Worth street west of Broadway. The words "Protection to American Industries" appear on the flag.

To get even with them the Wholesale Dry-Goods Cleveland and Thurman Club stretched a beautiful banner scross Broadway at Worth street. Portraits of the Democratic standard bearers adom it, and the words "Protection to American labor the words "Protection to Cincinnati and then came to write and ske you to plead for ms and respect. Ny austral to write and see as highly of the Governor that I ventured to write and see the great st noors and respect. Ny austral to write and see the great st noors and respects to write and then came to write and then came to write and then came to write and ske you to plead for ms and great my boy. Ires pardon, which he Governor that I ventured to write and ske to write and ske to write and ske to be write and ske to write and ske to write and ske to be with a well as the form and then came to write and ske to be write and ske to be write and ske to be write and ske to w for the national ticket. The Republican

When he assumed the cares of office he issued a characteristic bulletin which was trusts and monopolies" are inscribed upon distributed to several thousands of his lawyer the banner.

First Dude-It's waining again, Becond Do. -- It's wet wain, too, werry wet. Nothing to Wear.

[From the Hoston Pronscript.] really, I have nothing to wear." "Nothing to wear!" exclaimed Mr. McStyle; "where is your cream satin?"
"Willy, John, how risiculous you are! You know that that is worn thread are!"
"I don't see how that can be. You have not worn it above three times."

"Very true; but then, think of the times I had to try it on while it was making."

Sin Francisco on Aug. 10 and in St. Louis on work in heavier
The other end of the case had been meanstand it.

MAXWELL.

Continued from First Page.

Hugh Mottram Brooks began his life twenty s.x years ago.
"He was a good boy," the father and mo her have said over and over again in their affection and their grief, urging that as a reason why there should be mercy—why the boy hould not die now.

It was a home with an atmosphere of love, It was a home with an atmosphere of love, of mutual care and dependence, of pue scholarship, that home into which Hugh came. The father and the mother were both teachers. Famuel Newton Brooks, who called the murderer son, has been for years Principal of the three detached a hools at Hyde. In one of the hig est grades under him his wife Hannah teaches. His son George is in another department, and his daughter Annie, born when Hugh was a boy of eleven years, is a pupil teacher, well advanced in examinations for a full Normal course.

Res ected according to their stations and their own worth of character, the members of the Brooks family formed a happy group, strong in their own ties and strong in the affection of many friends.

They were not great travellers. The affection of many friends.

They were not great travellers. The mother and daughter had hardly stepped beyond the bounds of their own immediate local ty. The father, in 1876, came across to see the wonders of the great American republic, as unfolded at the Philadelphia expection.

Hugh was a ways a little wild, but the parents loved him not a whit the less. He was bright and active. He did not take to rou ine and would never make a teacher. As a boy he teased his sister, in school he troubled his teacher more than he did his books. From such a boy outbursts were to be expected; but that he would come to a criminal act of the blakest—that he would one day take another's lie, apparently a ter the coldest sort of calculation over the deed, no oue thought possible any more than the mother and sister, father and brother even now be leve it true.

It was when he was twenty three years old and was getting along indifferently as a so-licitor that Hugh Brooks made his most un-

Interest that Hugh Brooks made his most unfortunate sally from home.

He was tired of the ties that bound him and of the familiar scenes about him. He would she the world. In pursuance of this re-olve he left his home Jan. 19, 1885, and on Feb. 3 he was on beard the steamer Cephalonia, from Liverpool, bound for New York. HE FIRST MEETS PRELLEB.

On that vis el he fell in with C. Arthur Preller, a young man of something over thirty years, a travelling salesman, going to America in the interests of J. B. Dixon & Co., of Bradford, Preller was of a sensitive, esthetic nature, feeling deeply in religious matters, passionately fond of music, and only too test to discuss with an appreciation. too rea y to discuss with an appreciative friend his ideas, thoughts and plans. He

FIRE LADDIES DISCIPLINED.

The Commissioners Deal Out Fines and Reprimands for Neglect of Daty.

The Fire Commissioners met yesterday to try Inspectors Osborne and Dowling for failing to report the state of the floors of the old Elm street arsenal, but at the request of counsel the case was adjourned until Sept. 5.

Friend his ideas, thoughts and plans. He found such a friend, apparently, in Brooks; but he knew him ould apparently, in Brooks apparently, in B to a jest.

The passage over, the two young men kept The passage over, the two young men kept up their intimacy, Maxwell lo-ing no opportunity to bind him elf more firmly in the regard of his late fellow-traveller. From New York they went to Boston together. Maxwell there made a pretence of look ng for a body upon which to make medical experiments, but according to all reports he made much more progress in a course of made much more progress in a course of flirtation carried on with the young ladies at the Washington street boarding-house which accommodated himself and Preller. CONTINUING THE PATAL INTIMACY.

CONTINUING THE FATAL INTIMACY.

The salesman made a business tour of New York, Philadelpnia, Baltimore, Buffalo, Toronto and other places, and wherever he went Maxwell's letters to lowed him. These epistles always began with "My Dear Arthur," and they dealt very minutely with his daily life. They told of his lack of funds, and the fact that his bicycle and stereopticon might be purchased at reasonable figures. In one of them it was intimated that a trip to Australia would suit the writer very much.

much.

Maxwell finally went back to New York and then set out again, reaching St. Louis and registering at the Southern Hotel March spent a considerab e sum of money. In buy-ing the ticket he gave the name of H. M. Brooks. That night he left the botel, saying as he went away that his friend Preiler had gone into the country, but he would be back in a faw dees.

ma few days.

Maxweli's baggage when he came to the hotel included a heavy zare trunk, a canvascovered trunk and a couple of hand-satchels. Preller had several sample trunks and a value. When Maxwell left he took the canvas trunk, a hat-box and a valise.

THE MYSTERY BEGINS.

THE MYSTERY REGINS.

On Tuesday, April 14, the odor in room 144 at the Southern caused an investigation. There were two runks in the room, the zinc-covered trunk and the one Maxwell had bought before leaving. The St. Louis trunk was on top of the ether. When the zinc-covered trunk was opened a dead body, dressed in only a pair of drawers, was found in it, with the notice: "So perish all traitors to the great cause."

Immediately inqu'ry was made for W. H. Lennox Maxwell, the man who had occupied the room. He was traced to San Francisco. During his jou ney across the plains he had the room. He was traced to San Francisco.

During his jou ney across the plains he had gone by the lames of Perry Reed Tewfik and J C. D. Auquer.
Under this name he registered at the Palace

Hotel on April 11. The next day he bought a steerage ticket for Auckland on the steamer City of Sydney, and on April 21 Chief Harri-gan sent a cablegram to Consul Gable of City of Sydney, and on April 2 Once Harry gan sent a cableyram to Consol Gable of Auckland ordering the arrest of Maxwell for murder. The steamer arrived on May 5, and Maxwell was aircsted and committed to the Auckland jail. On May 25 the extradition papers were made out, and on June 6 Detectives Tracy and Badger left for Aukland with papers. The prisoner was turned over to them, and on the 21st of July they sailed for home on the Zelandia, arriving in San Francisco on Aug. 10 and in St. Louis on San Francisco on Aug. 10 and in St. Louis on while worked up. Preller did not return from the country. It was found that the drawers on the body were maked H. M. Brooks, and that a black mustache had been recently cut off. Photographs were taken and sent to Preller's friends. It was found that to eleft hand of the body had a scar which tallied with the one tuat Preller had received but a short time before in a New York tarber shop. Then came a Toronto photographer named Frazer, who had taken Preller's picture, and was sure the body in Howard - Chicago's New Spectscular Production-The Hit Willie Eddinger is Making in "Among the Pines"-Agnes photographer named Frazer, who had taken Prei er's picture, and was sure the body in the box was that of the salesman. Among Maxwell's effects was a smal buckskin bag, which is supposed to have belonged to Preiler, and the strings of which were cut. Among the things he to k with him, and which were found in Auckland, was an undershirt which had been cut from a body, and a lot of Preiler's cuffs and collars. De Wolf Hopper, the comedian, and Bronson Howard, the playwrig it, became acquainted for the first time last sunday in a charmingly unconler's cuffs and collars.

So the trunk invstery was solved and Maxwell was brought to trial. ventional way. Hopper was spending the day at New Rochelle with Mark Smith, and in the afternoon set forth to enjoy a swim in the cool, bracing waters of the Sound. He awam out to a doat some The State went directly at the case to show that robbery was the object of the murder and that the "so perish" placard was but a distance from the shore. He reso ed it in salety and hung on to one end of it. As he was boubing up and down on one side of the foat he caught a and that the so perish plants and that the so perish blind.

For the defense several grounds were tested. A general denial of the crime was made. The identity of the body in the trunk was questioned. The ingenicus theory was advanced that Preller had persuaded Maxwell to undertake a surgical operation which had seculted faulty. timpse of some one bobbing up and down on the other side. This some one took a dive and came ap beside Hopper.

'Let me introduce myself to you, Mr. Hopper," sald this person; "Pm Bronson Howard," "Oh !" remarked Hopper, rather incredulously. ooking at the head and gleaming shoulders. What's the other end of you; a fish ?"

Mr. Howard laughed, and an amicable conversation ensued. "Next time we meet, Hopper," said Mr. Howard, "let us hope there will be a less monotonous kind of ilquid around."

"Yes," said Hopper, "I'd like you to come and see me, old boy; and 'resurrecting a c. e.tnut,' come without any ceremony-just as you with that end in view.

Finally a jury was obtained, the exciting trid was held and Maxwell was convicted.

During the trial the pris ne's real name and history came out, so generally had the name of Maxwell been impre-sed upon the ever, that he would put on a new pair of tigats, as people that the other name was barely men-tioned and is even now scarcely recognized. After the conviction Maxwell's counsel supealed the case and so, by one legal delay and another, the final act of the tragedy has hose he wore at present were hardly fit for even ing use.

When Francis Wilson makes his starring tour it will be under the management of Mr. Canby, who last season was associated with the Cas no and who ints season travels managerially with Frederick Bryton. Wilson proposes to organize a comic opera company which he will call "Francis Wilon and Company." The organization will exist after next se son.

The devotion of Maxwell's counsel and friends has been wonderful. Up to the very last moment efforts to secure a commutation or a pardon were unremitting. Petitions and letters were secured in such numbers as to flood Gov. Morehouse's mail and his office de-k. .. The Crystal Slipper," which is Chicago's pet pectacular production, will be first seen here in the winter at the Star Theatre, beginning in November and running for four weeks. William it. Hayden, now with Barnum's Circus, and for-merly of the firm of Hayden, D.ckson & Roberts, will manage the organization for Mr. Henderson.

England to St. Lous. His wire wrote to Mrs. Morehouse, and, as a last resort, a week ago Mrs. Brooks and her daughter Ann came ar os the o can and had a personal hearing before the Governor. It availed only Wallie Eddinger, the flaxen-haired little boy who made such a hit in "Among the Pines" at the People's Theatre some time age, is to have a part to secure a delay of four short weeks, from July 13 to this day, but the two suffering Englishwomen won much sympathy from tend r hearted Americans, and the number of petitions and letters to the Governor inin "Pullip horne" at the Fifth Avenue Theatre. Papa E dinger will also appear in the play. It is rather difficult, say managers, to secure a child with his lather, though children with mothers are The prisoner was visited daily in his cell by is mother and sister, and gained much comfort from the interviews. . . .

Miss Agnes Stone is to sing Miss Lillan Russell's part in "The Queen's Mate" at the Broadway Theatre on Monday. Miss Russell assumes that During his first year in jail Maxwell retained his old flip ancy of manner. He cracked jokes and tried in all ways to be amusing to those who saw and heard him. Within twelve months p at he had become more earnest, though by no means downcast. He was baptized into the Roman Catholic fath while in jail, and was frequently visited by a father confessor and bisters of Charity. Under the inexorable rule of the jail visitors were not allowed to come directly into vacated by Miss D'Arville.

Boyd Putnam, a young "juvenile" man, who for two or three years was connected with the Bos-ton Museum, will be seen for the first time in this city next Tuesday at the Madison Square Theatre, n " A Legal Wreck."

THE LONG ISLAND REGATTA

Bowery Bay Beach Getting Ready for the Oarsmen's Meeting on August 18.

Extensive preparations are in progress at Bowery Bay Beach to accommodate the crowd that will undoubtedly attend the annual regatta of the Long Island Amateur Regatta Association that takes place at this popular resort on Saturday, the 18th.

Mr. Alexander Moran has had a boat-house Mr. Alexander Moran has had a beat-house built and at a considerable expense has erected a handsome structure for the exclusive use of clubs, on the extreme end of commodious pier, which coursesy on the part of Mr. Moran cannot but be appreciated by the oarsmen.

The course will probably be staked off in shallow water to compel the steamers who accompany the racers to keep in the channel. Thus the "wash" that has been so detrimental to the course and in the recent and the steam of the content and the steam of the steam of the channel.

Thus the "wash" that has been so detri-mental to the contes ants in most regattas will be done away with. Nearly all the boat clubs in Brooklyn have already entered and several from New Jersey and the Harlem R.ver.

The World's Good Women.

[From the Woman's Pribune.] Good women are sentinels; in the darkest of earth's night
They hold with stout hearts, sliently, life's outposts towards the light,
And at God Almighty's roll call, 'mong the hosts that answer "Here," And at Got Almighty's full call, 'mong the hosts that answer "here,"

The voices of good women sound strong, and sweet, and clear.

Good women are brave soldiers; in the thickest of the fight
They stand with stout hearts patiently, embattled for the right, And the no blare of trumpet or roll of drum is Good women, the world over, are an army of the Lord.

Good women save the nation, though they bear not sword nor gun; Their | anop y is righteonenes; their will with Golds as one, Each in her single person revealing God on earth, Knowing that so, and only so, is any life of worth.

Dost talk of woman's weakness! I tell you that The weight of this world's future depends upon brought them from home they could but have been impressed by American cordiality and hospitality. As it is they will have no time for thoughts And down the truck of ages, as Time's flood tides are told,
The level of their height is marked by the place that women hold.

News Summary.

A $400,000 fire burnt out a dozen Chattanooga At Paterson George Fielding kills Albert Micaler with a whiffle ree.

with a whiffle-ree.

Republicans of Michigan renominate the old State licket, with Ai.er for Presidential elector.

T. C. Freeman, of St. Louis, Mo., nineteen years old, is a r. ving lunstic from cigarette smoking. Parmers frighten a tramp at Jeff-rachville, Mo., and he diops a packa, e containing $17,000 robbed from the mails.

The odore Joff, of 303 East Fifty-sixth street, attempted suicide by shouling in Central Pars, unsuccessfuly.

Dr. Cardine S. Rogers, of Rochester, is apposed Examining Physician of the tempte department of the State Industrial School.

BRIGHT BITS OF CHILD TALK.

Sayings of the Sages and Humorists of the

My niece Mabel, now a brilliant and successful ac ress, displayed at a very tender age her admiration for " the profession " and her determination " to be a great actress." One day, when she was but seven years of age, thinking it well to temper her enthusiasm. I remarked that in a vas hall her weak voice could not possibly be heard above a whis ier. "Well," said he, after a moment's deliberation, "I don't care. I shall take the whispering parts."

193 Second avenue.

A Domestic Secret Out.

"Why, how odd you look with your hair parted in the midde!" exclaimed Mrs. Brown. "I used to part mine on the side." said Mrs. Jones. Then the conversation became general. Each lady had to tell how she came general. Each lady had to tell how she rarted her hair—all but little Edith's mother. She said nothing. Suddenly little Edith's voice was heard. She evidently did not like to have her mother ignored. She said: "My namma parts her hair in her lap!" Her mother didn't look happy, but from the significant glances that passed from one to other it was plain enough that the information was pleasing to the other ladies.

Of the Neuter Gender.

"How many genders are there?" asked a schoolmaster. "Three, sir," pr mptly replied lit le blue-ey s. " Masculine, teminine and neuter." "Pray give me an example of each, said the master. "Why, you are masculine, because you are a man; and I am feminine, because I am a girl." "Very well. Proceed." "I don't kn w," said the little girl." but I reckon Mr. Jenkins is neuter, as he's an old bachelor."

"Papa, I think you told a fib in the pulpit to-day," said a little son of a clergyman, 'Why, my boy, what do you men?" asked the father. 'You said," continued the child. One word more and I have done.'
Then you went on and said a great many more words. The people expected you'd leave off, 'cause you promised them; but you didn't, and kept on preaching a long while didn't, and kept on pr after the time was up.

Fellow-Feeling.

A little boy had lived for some time with a penurious un le. The latter was one day walking out with the child by his side when a friend, accompanied by a greyhound, addressed him. The little fellow, never having seen a dog of so slight and alim a build, clasued the creature round the neck with the passionate cry. "Oh. drggle, do you live passionate cry, "Oh, dege, do y with uncle, too, that you're so thin?"

A Future Gibbon. "Master Buggains, come up and tell me who was Cleopatra ?"

"Cleopatra was sister to one of the pyra mids of Hegypt, and come to her un'appy send by swaller in' of a wa-p." 'Good boy! good boy! you'll be a Gibbon one of these Nearly Bancoed a Big Brewer.

Jacob Deischer, a wealtay Milwankee brower who came here to view the Bisine parate, was approached in a Broadway car last night by a styl ship dressed bunco steerer. Shorily afterwards snother steerer engaged Mr. Deischer in conversa-

A detective who was riding on the car arrested the man just in time to save Mr. Deisoher's pocket-book. This morning the man was arraigned in the Tombe Court, where he told Justice Power that he was Geo. Allens'on, of 70 Sixthawenue, and a respectable character. He was held in $1,000 ball for trial. Standing of the Clubs This Morning.

Games Scheduled for To-Day. LEAGUE. Pittsburg at New York. Detroit at Philadelphia.

ABSOCIATION. Brooklyn at Cincunati. St. Louis va. Athletics at St. Louis. Baltimore at Louisville. Cleveland at Kansas City.

Amateur Raschall Notes. The Resources claim the championship of the Seventh and Thirteenth Wards. All clubs under fourteen wishing games for Sunday address A. Feinberg. 165 Broome street. The Young Greenfields defeated the Burkes. The features of the geme were Peters's pitching and the first- sae play of Garver, of the Young Green-fids. Batteriss, Peters and McGovers, of the Young Greenfields, and Burke and Burke, of the Burkes..... 0 0 4 1 1 2 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 0 8 Greendelds. 3 0 0 2 0 5 0 0 0 0 0 0 1 1 9 Young Greendelds—Base hits, 15; errors, 4 Burkes—Base hits, 8; errors, 3.

The "Evening World" Score Carde. All amateur ball-players desiring to use Tun EVENING WORLD score cards will be supplied without charge upon application to the publication office of The World, at 29 Park row; at The World's Brooklyn office, 359 Fullon street, or at the uptown office, 1267 Broodway. Application by mail should be accompanied by a two-cent stamp to cover postage.

A Necessary Precaution.

Daughter-Paps, desr, Mr. Sampson is coming to-night, and I wish when you go to bed that you would close the transom over your door, Fatuer (humbly)—Do I shole so loudly as all Whise-barre-police discover a band of dynamiters who had placed a bit bomb in e the grocery of the rmsn will am s of the Cly Police Committee, that the test sort of thing runs in the family."

encountered a burght the batchway."

the has failed down the batchway."

"well, I gue a you're teiling the truth,"

said the officer, taking his hand off my arm;

said the officer, taking his hand off my arm;

ONLY A LITTLE BAD WORK.

Chief Engineer Church Stands Up for the Aqueduct Inspectors. The Fassett Committee got to work at its Aqueduct investigation at 10.15 this morn-

Engineer Church resumed the witness chair, and said that he desired to make a correction of an erroneous report of his statement regarding the Ins. ectors. He said a very large proportion of the inspection work had been very good, but quite a percentage had not been very satisfactory. Only 4 per cent, of the rwork, he said, was not good, cent, of the r work, he said, was not good, and 20 per cent, was excellent.

The average pay of an inspector, he said, was $4 a day, and ten hours was the average time per day an inspector was on duty. He thought that young civil engineers could be employed as inspectors, and was of the opinion that a good stone mason or a brick ayer would be competent to act.

Touching upon the Water Detector Company's slock and transactions and his connection therewith, Mr. Church explained that he had withdrawn from the concern to avoid any entanglement hat might be entailed because of his connection with the Aqueduct work.

Contractor McBean then took the witness, and asked him numerous qbestions regarding the several contracts of Brown, Howard & Co., with special reference to the manner in which the work should be done.

THE RAFT'S JOURNEY ENDING.

Sighted off Enten's Neck and Due at City Island This Afternoon.

The big timber raft from Port Joggins Nova Scot a, was sighted at 10 o'clock this morning at Eaton's Neck in the Sound.

The immense mass of lumber was being moved along at the rate of about four miles an hour in tow of the two powerful tugs, Underwriter and Ocean King.

Luckenback & Co., agents for Mr. Leary, say the raft will anchor near City Island this

FROM MONTANA.

GENTLEMEN: I have taken a great many of Dr. O. Me ANE'S CELEBRATED LIVER PILLS and find them to be a wonderful pill—ali that you claim for them. They are like a charm in case of biliousness, sick headsohe, dynes-tery., &c. Mrs. HENRY WIFELEMAN.

Cure sick headeache, billousness, liver complaint, dyn-Gure sick headeache, billousness, liver complaint, dyspepsia, heartburn, indigestion, malaria, pimples on face and body, impure blood, &c., by using regularly Dr. C. McLane & Celebrate Diver Pills, prepared only by Fleming Broa., Pitteburg, Pa. Proce 25 cents. Sold by all druggists. Insist upon having the gen vine Dr. C. McLane's Liver Pills, prepare by Fleming Bros., of Pitteburg, Pa., the market being full of intentions of the name of McLane, spelied differently, but of the same pronunciation. Always make sure of the words "Fleming Bros., Pittsburg, Pa., "on the wrapper.

The HANKS Co. DENTISTS. .

Extracting, 25c.; with GAN, 50c. No charge for gas extracting when sets are to be made. Bets 43, 89 and 810. Female attendent. Sundays to 1, 203 Sixth Avenue, 2d Door below 14th 4t.

PEERLESS DYES ATO the BENT.

AMUSEMENTS. CARINO. BROADWAY AND WITH SE.
AMERICA'S COOLERT AMUSEMENT RESORT.
SUCCES GREATER THAN EVER.
100TH REPRESENTATION SAT. EVER.

NADJY.

ROOP GARDEN CONCERT AFTER THE OFFILE
ADMISSION 500... including both core-rainmosts. MANHATTAN BEACH.

FIRE OF LONDON PAIN'S GRAND FIREWORKS.

EVPRY EVEN'S EXCEPT SUNDAYS & MONDAYS.

WONDERFUL PERFORMAN ES INCL.

DENTAL TO THE SPACTACLE.

H. R. JACOBS'S (THALIA) OLD BOWERY THEATRE, BOWERY, BELOW CANAL ST.
G. AMBREG.
NOW PERMANENTLY OPEN.
Adminston, 10c.; R. s. Neats, 20c., 30c., 50c.

Matiness Monday, Wednesday and daturday.

The week, Tit's BLACK FLAG.

Next week, ii. R. JACOBS's VAUDEVILLE CO. AT SAINT GEORGE, STATEN ISLAND IMRE KIRALFY'S

NERO ; FALLOFROME.

Frentings at 8.30. Admission, 50c.; children under 13 half price. Staten Itis ad coate, Battery, fare 10c. POOLE'S THEATRE, BIT ST. NRAR 4TH AVE.,
REOPENS TO MORROW ("ATURDAY) EVENING.
MR. J. B., "TUDLEY
In the greatest of American dramas,
NICK OF THE WOODS.
PRICES 10c., 20c., 30c., 50c.,
Matiness Mon., Wed., Thurs., Sat.

BUFFALO BILL'S WILD WEST.

RASTINA, STATEN ISLAND.

Staten Island Boats, 10c., at 3 and 8.36, P. M.

BATTLE

OP

GETTYSBURG,
19th s. and 4th ave.

WINDSOR THEATER
SATURDAY EVENING, AUG. 11.

Gran Openne of the Regular Season. Grant Opening of the Regular Sesso.
The Greatest Meledrams of the Day.
LIGHTS AND SHADOWS.

BROADWAY THEATRE, CORNER 41ST ST.

Monday, Aug. 13.

J. C. DUFF
Comic Opera Co.

THE OUEEN'S MATE. KOSTER A BIAUS CONCERT HALL JAMES OWEN O'CONOR, Hamiet...... Mr. O'Conor | Ghost....... Mr. Newm Electric Wonders, The 3 Judges, Richard Pitrot. MADISON SQUARE THRATRE. ICKD AIR.
MA. M. Palmer. Sele Manacer. "JUDGE ROT.
Rvenings 8.30; "aturday Matines 2. "JUDGE ROT.
Last week of Effe kilser in "JUDGE ROT.
"Tuee., Aug. 14. Gillette's new play, A Legal Wreck.

WALLACK'S PRINCE METHICSALEM EVENINGS ATS. SATURDAY MATINES AT 1 THEISS'S, THEISS'S, THEISS'S, THEISS'S, THEISS'S, THEISS'S, THEISS'S, THEISS'S, THEISS'S, THE THE STATE OF THE STATE OF THE MONSTER ORCHESTE ON. TERRAC' GARDEN. Sith st., n-ar Si ava.
Amberg's Op a and the Gypay Marienettes. Tenight, a rise Mms. Angot.

BRUNALEM AND THE CRUCIFIXION.
THE GREATEST OF ALL PANORAMAS.
Madison are and 59th st. Made cool artificially.

I has some matches in my pocket and quick y lighted several burners. A pistol was round on the floor, but no mangled body. We peered up the open hoistway, but now that the lower sory was lighted all looked fo lowed by a bold knocking at the front door.

"What's wrong in there?" shou'ed an authoritative voic. "Open this door!"

I crept to a wisdow, opened it, and looked down upon the stree.

Severa policemen were at the door.

I hurried down the four flights of stairs, and, dark as it was, it seemed but a second till I had reached the street door, which I unfas ened and opened.

To my surprise, one of the officers seized me saying;

"Oho! We've got you at last, eh? Don't try to escape, or you're a dead man!"

"Le go of me!" I said, half insignantly.

"You need not fear my escaping. I am employed by B— & Co., and have been watching the hoistway. It had entered the thick mus.

I hat some matches in my pocket and quick y lighted several burners. A pistol was round on the floor, but no mangled body. We peered up the open hoistway, but now that the lower sory was lighted all looked gloomy above.

I carefully fastened the door, and with the three policemen ascended from floor to floor, lights of stairs, and, dark as it was, it seemed but a second till I had reached the street door, which I unfas ened and opened.

To my surprise, one of the officers seized me saying;

"Oho! We've got you at last, eh? Don't try to escape, or you're a dead man!"

"Le go of me!" I said, half insignantly.

"You need not fear my escaping. I am employed by B— & Co., and have been watching the hoistway. It had entered the thick mus.

It had reached the street door, which I unfast entered he hoistway is an an hanging in middle of the night had abstracted valuable packages of silks and the like and troping in the feurth floor, however, a horrible and plastly sight me to ur sare. On reaching the fourth floor, however, a horrible and plastly sight metour by an anan hanging in middle of the night had best acted with the floor of the middle of the

WENTY years ago 1

the first, was perpetrated.

left a country home and took a clerkship in he wholesale house of B— & Co., New York, a firm then known as one of the and laces. I had been in my position nearly

Mr. B-, the senior member of the firm, begin my task at the fifth floor. It was so em sloyees to take turns at guarding the building night after night, in the hope of en. | bu lding and easily made my way to the roof. trapping the burglar, and he chose three fond of adventure, and, being a muscular youth, I would not have hesitated to grapple with an ordinary burglar. Arms were not so

York, a firm then known as one of the wealthiest of the metropolis. They dealt largely in imported fabrics, such as sulks would be so audacious as to attempt a third robbery when I clauced to look above me robbery when I clauced in those tage. and discovered that I was immediately under the hor way, and that for once the trapdoors or every floor had been imprudently left open, and I could see to the very root, which was amply supplied with skylights.

With the view of closing the traps I crept a year when the store was ro bed of $5,000 and discovered that I was immediately under worth of silks. Experienced detectives were soon at work on the case; but some weeks slapsed, and they seemed to have gained no clue, when, to the astonishment of all, a which was amply supp ied with skylights,

With the view of closing the traps I crept softly up the four broad flights of stairs to

He dropped his bundle, uttered a startled but I was brought to my senses by hearing a restlyed secretly to employ several trusted dark on the stairs that I had to feel my way chiefly, but then I knew every inch of the When I reacued the af.h floor I found that clerks for the purpose-I being one. I was objects were quite distinguishable owing to the mellow light which the mo n supplied > the same moment i was started by seeing in the dim light the figure of a man moving among the boxes and us es, so noiseless y and so perfectly at ease that he did not seem to be earthly.

>
> His movements at last brought him to within ten seet of me, and I felt that the time within ten seet of me, and I felt that the time is to probably saved my life, for he stepped to the common boistway and fell back.

exclamation, but recovered his self possession almost instantly, and strove to free himself. Then began a desterate struggle—on his part for liberty, on my part probably for his e.

Clattering noise far below, and a loud report that woke harsh schoes in every corner and recess of the groomy building.

The pistol had fallen to the lower floor and for liberty, on my par, probably for lie.

At last his strength proved superior to mine, and he succe ded in di-engaging himself, when he hulled me from him and sent me staggering some feet.

We stood an instant confronting each other, the mellow light which the moin supplied through the skylights.

Awed by the silence, I stood a moment at the head of the stairway, and it just now occurred to me that the mysterious robber might have got in through the skylights. At step probably saved my life, for he stepped fairly into the open hoistway and fell back-word with a startled scream. So sudden and unlooked-for was his disapexplored.

1 stood a moment listening, while a cold pe spiration star ed from my forehead, and I

"but we must keep an eye on you."

1 hat some marches in my pocket and quick y lighted several burners. A pistol was found on the floor, but no mangled body. We peered up the open holstware.

cles of the right arm, between the shoulder and elbow, and had thus he d him suspended and saved him a fall of fifty feet. The pain, however, had teen so intense that he had im-modute; fainted and was still unconstions. He was now speedily released from his terri-ble situation, resuscitated and carried to a nolice station.

second robbery, as daring and mysterious as